Streamlined and stress-free

Working with Rocket Expansion was such a treat, and they made the entire process so streamlined and stress-free. I loved how much input I had and how easy it was to work with them. I loved how enthusiastic they were. They really want you to have a product you love and care about what they're doing, which for me, says so much. My website turned out even better than I imagined. If you're looking to have a shiny new website created, I highly recommend them.

Great value, amazing finished product

Awesome to work with Rocket Expansion on my website. Mine was slightly more unique and complicated than I think they bargained for, but they delivered! They have a great touch and feel for a quality end product, and really listened to me when I described what I was trying to achieve. Definitely recommend them, great value, amazing finished product!
